REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

In a radio frequency remote controlled apparatus receiver/method that is responsive to a particular frequency signal, the use of a biasing and offset compensation circuit in conjunction with a low powered comparator having first and second inputs, wherein biasing and offset compensation biases the signal first input by an offset midrange voltage and the second input by an offset compensated voltage based on an offset between the first and second inputs, so that the comparator outputs an activation signal when the first and second inputs are differed by a threshold, is not taught or suggested in the prior art. Such compensation circuit and comparator combination is low-powered and eliminates the need for amplifier in the receiver.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
